INNOVATION COMPETITION FOR SECONDARY SCHOOL STUDENTS
2020

Rules and Conditions

1. Entries must be aimed at improving life in some aspect. The winning entry will be the idea considered by the judges, in their absolute discretion, to be both innovative and capable of giving the greatest improvement to life within the sphere on which it impacts.
2. The idea may relate to any area of the human or natural world, local, national, regional or global, and it may be technical, organisational, artistic or otherwise.
3. The proposal must be feasible, and have a degree of practicality, but it need not be completely novel (provided there is some originality) nor need it be completely worked out.
4. Entries may be submitted by individuals or by teams of not more than 4 people.
5. Not more than 3 entries shall be submitted from or on behalf of students at one school. If more than 3 entries are prepared by student at one school, the teacher or teachers responsible for those students shall decide which entries to submit.
6. At the date of submission, all entrants and all members of teams must be attending secondary school, 6th form college or equivalent in Kent and in such other areas as the organisers, in their absolute discretion, may extend the competition.
7. All entries must:
 - a. be outlined in writing on the equivalent of one sheet of A4 plus any necessary sketch or photograph with a caption bearing the name of the proposed idea and the name and email address of the contact entrant;
 - b. indicate the problem that the proposed idea is intended to overcome, the enquiries (including internet searches) made to find whether any other solutions are already on the market and, if so, why the proposed idea is superior to those. The entrant may describe any other solution that has been considered;
 - c. indicate what (if any) enquiries have been made regarding a market for the proposed idea;
 - d. be in PDF format;

- e. be accompanied by a covering email which states the name of the proposed idea, the names, addresses, schools and ages of all entrants who have collaborated in it and the name of the contact entrant (or, if appropriate, teacher) and his or her email address for correspondence.
8. The competition will be judged by a panel of local people, most of whom have a science or technology background. Some have had a hand in developing new ideas and bringing them to the market.
9. If the organisers or judges consider it necessary in order to understand the concept fully they may ask for further details in writing. Replies to any such enquiries should be in writing and by email, quoting the reference in the request. A preliminary panel of judges then considers all the written material and decides on a shortlist of entrants, based on the initial entry and response to the written queries.
10. Final judging will take place at Canterbury Christchurch University, Canterbury campus on 24th June 2019. We hope all entrants attend, whether or not their entries have been forwarded to the organisers by teachers or they have been asked to make oral presentations to the judges, but the prizewinners will be chosen from those making oral presentations. In the invitation to attend, shortlisted entrants will be invited to make an oral presentation to the judges. If an oral presentation is requested, the judges may indicate the particular matters they would like dealt with, but the entrant may also cover other matters if he or she wishes. However, no oral presentation should exceed 6 minutes.
11. There is a cash prize for the winner and two runners up:
 - 1st prize: £300
 - 2nd prize: £100
 - 3rd prize: £50

All other presenters speaking at the final will receive a consolatory prize of a book token.

All finalists will receive a certificate of participation. After the judging, all shortlisted participants and others attending the final will be given advice on ways of exploiting and protecting their ideas.

12. Entrants will remain owners of their entries as between themselves and the organisers, but the organisers will have no obligation to maintain confidentiality nor to protect intellectual property in any material or ideas submitted.
13. Entrants agree to have their name, photo, and some information about the proposed idea appear in publicity for the Rotary Club of Canterbury and other sponsors of the competition.

Entries must be submitted to innovationcompetition@canterbury.ac.uk no later than 31st March 2020 and headed "Rotary Innovation Competition 2020"
