Buurtwerk Het Lampeke has been active in a very diverse neighbourhood in Leuven for 50 years and works with the underprivileged target group: people who, for whatever reason, are or are likely to become socially vulnerable. They want to take people out of their social isolation by organizing all kinds of connecting activities in a safe environment. The neighbourhood activities mainly revolve around day care for babies and toddlers, working with children from nursery and primary school (and their parents / families) and young people up to 25 years. There is also the community centre 't Lampeke where adults can catch their breath again in a pleasant environment. Finally, there is also preventive family support.

The local Pentangular project is about Mother's Day, which is traditionally celebrated in May in our regions. Single mothers are already having a hard time anyway and have little to celebrate that day. This year Buurtwerk Het Lampeke wants to spoil the mothers personally and give them, together with their children, an unforgettable day of activities and folk festivities.
